

The Dawes Plan and the Rescue of the Global Economy. International Conference 26-28 September 2024

Venue: German Historical Institute London

26th September

16:00 - 1630

Welcome Address

16:30 - 18:30

Albrecht Ritschl (London School of Economics, accepted): Keynote: The Dawes Plan in the light of economic history research

Roman Köster (Historical Commission at the Bavarian Academy of Sciences and Humanities, accepted): The stabilisation of European currencies during the 1920s: An unfinished story.

19:00 Dinner

27th September

09:00 - 11:00

Session 1: The Role of England:

Patricia Clavin (University of Oxford, accepted): England in European Economic Diplomacy of the 1920s

Brian D. Varian: (University of Newcastle, accepted), Protectionism in Britain in the 1920s.

Benjamin Vogt (University of Oxford)?: Great Britain and the Empire as an economic area in the 1920s.

10:30 - 11:00 Coffee Break

11:30 - 13:00

Session 2: Monetary Stabilisation in Comparison

Nathan Marcus (University of Haifa, accepted): The Austrian stabilisation 1922

Marianna Astore (Paris School of Economics, accepted): The International Dimensions of Quota Novanta: Constraints and Opportunities of Italian Monetary Stabilization.

Kenneth Mouré (University of Alberta, accepted), Poincaré-le-franc: Monetary Stabilization in France

13:00 - 14:00 Lunch

14:00 - 16:00

Session 3: Re-creating the European Market? Trade liberalization during the 1920s

Madeleine Dungy (Trondheim, accepted): Competing visions of trade and security after the Dawes settlement

Jamieson Gordon Myles (University of Oxford, accepted): Trade Finance in the 1920s

16:00 - 17:30

Interludium: Presentation of the editorial project "Deutschlands weltwirtschaftliche Verflechtungen im 19. und 20. Jahrhundert": Volume on the 1920s.

19:00 - 21:30

Conference Dinner

28th September

10:00 - 12:00

Session 4: Actors in European Stabilisation: Companies and Associations

Liane Hewitt (Princeton University): Cartel Policy during the 1920s

Neil Forbes (Coventry University): The Dawes Plan, London's merchant banks and European stabilisation

Marco Bertilorenzi (University of Padua): French-German trade normalisation. The role of business diplomacy and cartels

12:00 - 12:30

Closing remarks.